Jennie Warmouth Named Top 50 Finalist for the $1 Million 2021 Global Teacher Prize!

Jennie Warmouth, second grade teacher at Spruce Elementary, has been selected as one of 50 finalists in the $1 Million 2021 Global Teacher Prize. The prize aims to recognize and celebrate teachers who have made an exceptional contribution in their field, and society.

Per the Lynnwood Times, Jennie states that, if selected for the prize, she will focus her time on “creat[ing] an empathy focused learning lab academy for teachers, students, and families.”

In 2019, Warmouth was one of 45 teachers selected as a Lindblad Expedition and National Geographic Grosvenor Teacher Fellow for her commitment to geographic education and conservation. Jennie was awarded a classroom grant from the Foundation for Edmonds School District to fund her project Operation Polar Bear C.A.R.E. that saw her travel with Lindblad Expeditions National Geographic Explorer to the Arctic Svalbard.

Her experience in the Arctic provided an incredible learning opportunity for her students. Warmouth's second grade class learned the impact that their decisions make on the environment and society, even in areas thousands of miles away. Her project still resonates with students today and was the inspiration of her Silverware Patrol project, that saw students use metal silverware instead of plastic in her school.

Success stories, such as these, highlight the significance your contributions make. Your donations and support make a huge difference in the lives of students, educators, and families.

The Foundation is exceptionally proud of Jennie and her accomplishments. Congratulations, Jennie!

2021/22 Congressional App Challenge!

The competition is open to all students who attend middle and high school in the 7th Congressional District (or live in the 7th Congressional District) and the app proposals are due by November 1, 2021.

General rules (additional information here): The app can be about any topic, on any platform, and in any programming language. The rules state that the app must have some degree of functionality, but students may submit a demonstration video to the challenge that goes over the other elements of the app. Students can work together in groups of up to four.

Prizes: The winners of the local competition will have the opportunity to meet Congresswoman Jayapal and discuss their proposals. Winning students are also invited to #HouseofCode Capitol Hill Reception in Washington D.C.! They are also eligible to display their app proposal in the U.S. Capitol Building and to be featured on the House of Representatives website, www.House.gov.
